

JUNK MAIL

Organizing Revelwooders is like herding cats... some hiss at you, some run away yowling, but most just ignore you and lick their paws."

Rob O' the Wood

Publisher: Revelwood Press
Editors: Brother Rodney
The General
Contributors: Lady Cynthia
Rob O' the Wood
Q
Photographs: Tarani
The General

IT'S A MAD STAMPEDE FOR POWER

Five Way Race for Tripod Seats

Through the official Revelwood word of mouth system, Junk Mail has learned that five citizens have announced their intent to sit along side the Iron Baron at the next Pipe and Pint. However, there can be only two.

The alleged citizens are Calador, Conner, Jung Mei, Olaf and The Vicar. However, it is not clear who is seeking which throne. It has been recently discovered that one of the citizens has not declared the specific throne of ambition. He didn't say if it was the Physical Throne, The Spiritual Throne or the Baronial Throne itself. Therefore it would be inappropriate to presume anything.

It is also interesting to note that so far, there have not been any women declaring an interest to be seated on the Tripod of Power. However, there is still time. The Art Show (June 12) will provide the forum for the declared candidates to further describe to the White Cups and the Citizens of Revelwood their intentions and provide an idea of their vision of the future of Revelwood.

As the process continues, Junk Mail and the Revelwood Web Page will keep you informed of all the late breaking news. Remember, stay with JM & RWP... "It's Everything We Want You To Know!"

To Hell and Back

As promised, the White Cups brought us a little taste of their world at this year's Party at the End of the Universe... it was down to Hades we went. The sights and sounds at Dante's Inferno Room were wickedly wild as the most unusual collection of demons, devils, anti-Mormons and lawyers wandered about in

(Continued on page 5)